SPRING 2006

Flowers leave some of their fragrance in the hand that bestows them.

Chinese proverb

TURN A NEW YARD INTO AN ESTABLISHED GARDEN BY SUMMER

There's nothing like established flower beds, teeming with colour, butterflies and fresh scents, to turn a new house into a home – and it doesn't have to take years to develop.

Yet what can be more daunting than to stand at the kitchen window or front door of a brand new house and wonder how on earth you can turn the piles of dirt and builders' rubble into a respectable garden? Where do you start? Do you level the ground, throw down some sod, add a few shrubs and make do with an uninteresting exterior? Or do you spend a year peering into other people's gardens for ideas, watching gardening shows on television... while the dirt in your back yard grows weeds a foot or more high.

It doesn't have to be like that. Your untamed yard can become a garden in a matter of weeks. Just ask the experts at Greenlife Garden Care and Landscaping.

Greenlife staffers have a passion for weaving magic, turning dull and lackluster expanses of dirt and weeds into smooth lawns, imaginative pathways and flower beds that will put fresh flowers on the table all summer long. Whether you want traditional flower beds, raised beds, or something quite out of the ordinary, they can help plan a garden within your budget, adding hard landscaping such as interlock pathways, stonework or woodwork – all within a few short weeks.

So don't spend another day wondering how to make your new garden look established. Give Greenlife a call today and be the envy of your neighbourhood by summer.

STERILIZED SOIL: SOIL IN WHICH HARMFUL ORGANISMS HAVE BEEN KILLED BY HEAT OR CHEMICALS, BUT IN WHICH HELPFUL BACTERIA THRIVE.

A FEW SQUIRREL FACTS

You may curse those fuzzy tailed rodents for digging up your bulbs, but they do have a lighter side. Studies show that squirrels actually enjoy goading dogs and cats to chase them – they get high on the adrenaline rush. And contrary to popular belief, squirrels don't always remember where they plant their food. This memory lapse adds millions of new trees to the world every year as buried and forgotten nuts sprout and grow.

YOU CAN HAVE A LUSH, GREEN LAWN WITHOUT PESTICIDES

By next year, Ottawa will most likely join over 60 Canadian municipalities that ban all chemical pesticides in residential areas. This makes spring 2006 the ideal time to start preparing a lawn free of chemicals, a health-wise step especially where children and pets enjoy playing outside.

A pesticide free lawn doesn't have to mean an over-growth of dandelions and an infestation of lawn-destroying insects. With proven organic products, such as cornmeal to inhibit weeds, fertilizers such as alfalfa to encourage lawn growth, and natural products that discourage insect infestation, you can have a lawn that is lush, green and vigorously healthy.

Greenlife's many satisfied customers know there is a successful solution to pesticide bans. Call Greenlife to find out what your options are so that when the City says "No more chemicals", you'll be well ahead of the game with a natural lawn care program.

"After searching for 2 years to find a garden and landscaping company that we liked, we were so happy we found Greenlife. The experience was exceptional. Not only was Sarah attentive and reliable, but we liked the way she communicated with us regularly. In addition, her team was professional and friendly and our gardens and lawn have never looked better.

We look forward to seeing the Greenlife team again this spring."
